trending from IBM mainframes (hardware) to the personal computer revolution via Microsoft (software) took a big leap when all those PC's linked up with the Internet (netware). It naturally follows that the next big phase after "the computer is the network" will be that "the network has a Conscience" (Heartware™).

Wisdom warrants that we can't legislate morality in our systems of self governance. We can, however, create an environment in which morality can thrive and this is the divine destiny of cultural DNA as will involve and evolve full-spectrum Conscience at the interactive interface heart of mass-to-mass TeLeComm.

The VISION alone, how Heartware™ will involve and evolve our individual and collective Conscience, can be the catalyst for a self-fulfilling prophecy that will make it so... a global upgrade of those core Constitutional freedoms that will update our horse-and-buggy representation systems with the Internet Age capabilities for culturing social Conscience in our ubiquitous social networks... finishing what U.S. Founders began.

The Conscious Movement that is the divine destiny of Earth's evolutions is the pure intention of the pure geometry framework that provides the Constitution of Heartware™. This is the movement away from highly centralized, top-down mass programming of the one-way monopoly media, and the movement towards highly decentralized, bottom-up grass-roots (Net roots) social Conscience in real-time (live) mass-interactive social networks.

The core obstacle to this point -- the 2010 Turning Point -- has been lack of vision regarding a universal interface for mass-to-mass interaction... how a hundred or million people can respond to the same program at the same time on a real-time or instant replay basis. That obviously requires a framework for response (constitution of the VISION), that will also define Web 3.0 as the next major development phase of the computer/Internet rEVOLUTION.

Obviously, you can't expect the public to be responsible for social institutions without response ability -- the ability to respond in a way that is consistent with the instant-everywhere and interactive capabilities of the modern Internet. All the public discontent we see is a direct consequence of the disconnect between ordained public power and the inordinate power of special interests who have a vested interest in keeping conscientious common sense FROM the public rather than of, by and for the public.

Empowering the wisdom of social Conscience with Heartware™ can thus be understood as the fulfillment of the Founders' pure intention behind the American Revolution. Or as James Madison, the Chief Architect of the Constitution, said so well,

"Conscience is the most sacred of all property."

This Conscience is the divine destiny of global freedom via the ordained power of love that checks and balances the inordinate love of power. Or as Thomas Paine, who sparked the American Revolution with Common Sense, said so well, "I love the man that can smile in trouble, that can gather strength from distress, and grow brave by reflection. 'Tis the business of little minds to shrink; but he whose heart is firm, and whose conscience approves his conduct, will pursue his principles unto death."

Shift Happens! The beginning of a new world of Unity Conscience is the end of the old divisive warring world as we have known it

Shift Happens! The beginning of a new world of Unity Conscience is the end of the old divisive warring world as we have known it. Now is the time prophesied when an accelerated shift into Aquarian Love will make the old paradigm obsolete by involving/evolving the language of consciousness for empowering global freedom & opportunity in the image and likeness of divine order that frames processes for culturing a personal and planetary transformation as will represent the Prime Directive for free will embrace of LOVE that matters.

Bottom Line:

A Golden Age is Earth's destiny, once refined.
Many are the dimensions where that is defined.
Many are the divine rooms in the Lord's Mansion.
But singular is the intention for love's dimension.
Singularity beats polarity with focused attention.
And attention pays well as evolutionary ascension with room in the Mansion for full-spectrum retention.

Message to those involved, and those who have just started seeking: Please put away your negativity. There is a point, this is not a marketing gimmick, nor a prank. You can't understand anything here because some of you are full of hostility, resistance, and complete doubt of yourselves. Others participate, yet refuse to see what any one of the manuals offer: you won't get any further, those are the absolute key to what I can show you. If you choose to not even try to see what's in yourself through help of the manuals, please, do not remain involved with this any longer. You cannot pass judgement on this when you repeatedly ignore what I am telling you the point is. You are polluting others thoughts, and filling them with doubt. This isn't here for a popularity contest, or to make money, it's to reach those who have the true vision of something more than themselves and what they can figure out by performing a google search. Complaints have flooded my email regarding a group of negative users on certain forums who say nothing but how much of a waste of time this is, and for months just been around to discourage others. If it's not for you, then do not participate, but I will tell you, that you are missing more than you can even imagine.

To those who have remained patient, the questions will answer themselves very soon, and the overwhelming amount of questions soon to come forward, I will be here for.

Answer to Life, the Universe and Everything

Posted by cheshirecat in Uncategorized

I apologize in advance. My mind is so jumbled now... this whole transformation has been a BIG shock. I already know my words will also be jumbled, but perhaps they will be helpful in some way for someone. I know posting will be helpful for me.

I've had such a desire to write down everything I've come to realize.. I began writing it in a book (for myself) that itself ended up being meaningful. I can't help but see the signs everywhere and I KNOW it's not just the power of suggestion. It's too obvious to ignore. I've spent my whole life being skeptical and cynical, to the point of feeling superior to everyone who "believed"... and yet I've always been drawn to study belief systems and science. And certain aspects always made me feel slightly disturbed and confused without explanation, so I ignored them. Despite my insatiable thirst for knowledge, I've ignored certain things. And each and every one of those things have come to mean something in this bigger picture. (Astral projection, lucid dreaming, parallels in life – like how things work the same on small scales and big scales, ex. orbits in space and in cells, empathy, soul ages, my own ability to perceive small changes in people and knowing what they're thinking, reincarnation, astral planes, spirits, demons, the similarities between religions, Mayans and their advanced knowledge, pyramids, simultaneous inventions — Collective Consciousness, even certain movies made me feel strange like Donnie Darko, and video games like Kingdom Hearts)

As much as I would love to write down every experience that has led me to my change in thinking, I believe it would take too long. And even in that, I come to understand the vagueness and mysteriousness. People, including myself, have been wondering "why can't you just spell it out?" Firstly, it's far too much to explain. Secondly, it's far too much to absorb... when you hear it your brain is trained to dismiss it immediately as "craziness". Trust me, my brain was full of doubt in the beginning. You need to come to realize everything for yourself, in the way that makes it make sense for you, or have someone you trust help you get there. If you get there yourself, it is through little signs and breadcrumbs in a domino affect, and I theorize we left these breadcrumbs for ourselves. You can't read it on a website. But I have seen for myself. And the fact that I've seen for myself has meant everything. The website was the most helpful in getting me to the realization, and it contained the least amount of (obvious) information. I've also come to realize other people helped me with the pieces I didn't understand. I realized that if I heard them out and didn't dismiss them, they would give me information I need.

Think about the manuals. They made no sense whatsoever to me at first, but they came to make sense. And I made sense of them, nobody explained it. And I have seen for myself that if someone has absolutely no prior knowledge and just follows the steps and doesn't give up, they will see exactly what someone who knows what to expect will see.

I'm finding people are being drawn to those closest to them. Reconnecting. I've also never been one to make friends, but the few I've made have come to mean EVERYTHING. And three of them (which is most of them) I've only met in the last 6 months- 1 year. People have always told me I'm an old soul and I only now understand what they were saying. I'm changing people too. I notice since the 28th that certain strangers seem to be paying attention to me, and friends are noticing a

7. Don't accept what blinds you. Is it an illusion? Ask yourself what it really is, when you're there. If particles react to consciousness, or an observation, and all things are made of them, then so must everything be conscious. If that holds true, what if you observe what you believe to be real, does it become that? When did the manual start working for you?

What is the difference between lucid dreaming, and reality? .[....] Take the ability to make a dream lucid, and bring it with you. It is the feeling of absolutely no doubt that reality (dream) isn't real. Gain that control nightly, and see where it takes you. .[..."I'm terrified, but intrigued about last evening. We both saw it, for sure, but why doesn't it feel like it actually happened? I can't shake the idea that something so simple can be so powerful. At this point, I might as well just hallucinate on drugs. We gazed for about three minutes straight and everything just started to fade. The fading of color, depth, and sound. It's one of those rare things that's nearly impossible to describe. Every single time it got to that point, we had to break away. It just felt like we wouldn't come back from it.. The best way I can put it in an example form is going through a dark tunnel and making different turns. You want to find out what's at the end of the tunnel, but you don't want to get lost in it and never find your way back. I pay attention to a lot of what goes on around me. One of the things I have noticed frequently is how distracted people are by computers, cell phones, etc. The biggest distraction and cause of mistrust is money by far. Yes we 'need' it, but look what it has done. How can someone see such an amazing event happen, sync up with someone on a strong level, even change reality and still go back as if nothing ever happened? I've reached a point that I can literally predict exactly what is going to happen in any situation. It's not intentional but I complete sentences of others before they finish saying them. My mind moves at an incredible rate, and I can say this only because it's been such a recent change that I see the difference. Events that used to startle me, now become a puzzle solved by the best description available, a slowing of time. I've heard countless times about those who say everything moves in slow motion when something extraordinary has happen. I'm STUCK in that slowing. Everything I think or look at some how manifests itself into a symbol, a meaning. It started with numbers 123, 11 11, 818, but it moved further. Everything has twisted together, even days later, it always syncs up.. The difference between then and now was not reality, or the events occurring, it's that I'm looking for it, observing it. I keep reading about conscious particles, the experiments fascinate me. The mere face that reality changes by just looking at it gives me chills. The kind of chill you get when you feel like you've just stumbled onto something big. I've been trying to show other friends about the things we've seen, it's tough to say the least.. People trust what I'm saying, but to get them involved with the process is difficult. I have a drive within me to find others like me, that think like I do, but this is just too slow. " .] October 19, 2009 x:(2) .[.. "What you're experiencing is what I refer to as 'acceleration'... It seems that the more people that fully believe in something, the more real it becomes.." We have been working together for a few days and haven't really accomplished anything. We are limiting ourselves to the stereotypical world of the 'supernatural' you know, like hypnotism, and psychics, they are just gags. I had another euphoric idea a few days ago. The idea was that these coincidences, these occurrences, weren't just random. Time after time we would think about the same things, even if it was a "fuzzy" resemblance.. I took that idea and came up with a test. We sat in front of each other and tried to guess each others numbers. He would pick something between 1 and 50, and I would think of what it was. The results were quite random, only every once in a while hitting the correct one. I am still experiencing a tremendous amount of euphoria, which has been fueling my interest and making me ask questions. One question in particular was raised on Thursday that I feel has completely changed my view on reality. I don't know how I had never thought about the connection people have when doing something as simple as having a conversation. We've only started doing this, but it's amazing so far. I'm trying to record these sessions as best as possible, but the excitement alone is getting in the way, there's too many distractions right now. Later this evening is going to be what I believe, what I hope, something very important about what we've been talking about. ..] October 18, 2009 .[I had a tremendous, terrifying experience a few weeks ago. After it, I had a week long feeling of constant deja vu. I felt like nothing around me was real. I was seeing numbers everywhere, the same numbers. I couldn't think 'normally' as I had for so long. I couldn't stop thinking about the possibility of something more, it was almost forced upon me.. I made it a point to notice, not ignore, all the coincidences that occurred on a daily basis. The mere observation fueled my belief, and it continued to happen more frequently. It was then that I spent a majority of my time pondering what else might be possible. Is there more to this reality then we choose to recognize? How could any of this actually exist out of nothingness? I met with a friend that I trust very much, and began to experiment with the idea. What we found with it is almost unbelievable. ...] -October 12, 2009 !

Acquire Height Right Now

Do you wish you could grow taller? Youre not the only one. Thousands of folks around the globe are unhappy with how they appear and seek to alter it. Fortunately, you can find techniques that perform. First, lets talk just a little about how we grow taller. When we are infants, much of our bones are made up of a flexible substance called cartilage. As we grow older, much of this cartilage fuses into solid bone, which is why we have more bones when were infants than we do as adults. When we hit puberty, growth plates at the ends of our longer bones lengthen gradually, which is portion of why we have such abrupt shoe lifts . Nonetheless, if you are in your younger years and wish to enhance your growth, an excellent diet regime and workout could be really beneficial. Consuming food wealthy in protein, calcium, calories, and amino acids is essential for giving your body the energy and nutrients it wants to grow, function, and replenish itself. By exercising and increasing your muscle mass, you grow to be much more slender. Your bones also become stronger as they support your further weight. Stretching can help your tendons and muscles too. Stretching also helps release height growth hormones, which in turn lengthens your bones. Exercising to make your height taller does work to some extent, but you must do so when you are nevertheless growing. There are lots of scams on the market today that claim to know workouts which might be able to stretch your bones after theyve stopped growing. This doesnt function. Nothing can make your bones grow once again when youve hit adulthood. Your posture is also extremely crucial, both for your look and your wellness. While slouching can actually make you appear shorter and results in a plethora of well being complications, sitting up straight together with your shoulders back and your head up can not only make you look taller, but it prevents backaches, neck aches, and even shoe lifts . If youre an adult and wish to grow taller, there are many techniques you can try. Dressing to create yourself appear taller is an efficient technique. Wearing solid colors, pinstripes, and shoes with height enhancing insoles could be very beneficial. Exercising makes you slimmer, which also increases the illusion. This write-up has been written by the author, Mbouda Koupitt. Now you're onto something.

Ahhhh, but why the number?

About us --

Well, for starters, we're not from a government, nor is this a social experiment or a game. It is in fact a very important part of what IS right now.. There are no warnings, this isn't a future teller gimmick, I know, as you know, as they know, as he knows.

mirror <<

You, are me.

Are particles conscious? ...Look around you, anywhere, trace it back to the beginning. Where did all you see originally come from?

3rd, soon.
